

“Biology 2010 and Beyond”

In 2003, The National Academies Press published a comprehensive report on reforming biology undergraduate education entitled “BIO2010”. The goal of the project was to promote undergraduate learning and to provide recommendations for comprehensive reevaluations of undergraduate science education. In addition to our keynote speaker, Dr. David Hillis (one of the eleven committee members of BIO2010), many of our discussions and presentations will relate to the issues, concepts, and recommendations for undergraduate biology education during the next decade. A summary, podcast, and full .pdf of “BIO2010” are available from <http://www.nap.edu/openbook.php?isbn=0309085357>. Thus, we invite you to the 54th ACUBE meeting and present to others what you and your institution are doing that addresses issues related to the problems and recommendations presented in this influential report.

As always, you are also welcome to present on any topic related to college and university biology education. We also welcome other formats such as hands-on laboratory demonstrations or workshops, provided abstracts are submitted in time to make any special room and equipment arrangements.

Please provide the following information outlined below by July 16, 2010 via email to: taramaginnis@austin.rr.com or mail them to

Tara Maginnis
3003 Headly Drive
Austin, Texas 78745

NOTE: I will be moving at the end of July to begin my new position at The University of Portland. Thus, if you miss the July deadline, please email late abstracts to maginnis@up.edu or laura.salem@rockhurst.edu

Author(s): (if more than one, indicate presenting author with an *)
Institution:
Preferred mailing address:
Phone number:

Email:
Title (or topic):
Presentation Type: (e.g., 20 min talk, 40 min talk, 40 min roundtable leader, 40 min workshop/demo, or poster)
Equipment Needs IF other than computer and projector:
ABSTRACT (< 200 words)

Please check all that apply:

- Yes! I will bring my presentation materials on a USB drive or CD to download and share on the ACUBE website
- Yes! I have a student presenting who would like to be considered for the “Best Student Presentation” (this includes both posters and oral presentations)
- Yes! I will be bringing an item to donate for our silent auction
- Yes! I would like to have my contact information included in the printed program
- Yes! I will email one of my nearby institutions and encourage them to participate in this year’s ACUBE meeting